

Privacy

Here at Toorak Fine Dentistry we are committed to protecting and respecting your privacy.

This policy statement explains how we collect information and how we use it.

In general we do not collect personal identifying information about you when you visit our site. Unless you choose to provide information to us you can visit our site without telling us who you are or revealing other personal identifying information. The information we receive depends upon what you do when visiting our site.

Collecting your information

We do not, as standard practice, collect personal information through this website. If for any reason we do collect personal information through your use of this website the purpose of use will be explained on the web site.

We may offer the service of collection of change of address information and personal information/medical history for new patients. This service may or may not be offered on this site. If offered it is only intended for people who have already made an appointment with the dentist and have been advised that this service is now available for this practice.

This is not an appointment booking system. Administration difficulties may mean it is not available.

Information sent via this web site will be via standard unencrypted email form. Unfortunately, no data transmission over the Internet can be guaranteed to be 100% secure. We cannot give an absolute assurance that the information you provide will be secure at all times. You accordingly do so at your own risk and we will not be held responsible for events arising from an authorised access to your personal information.

No information will be stored on databases within this web development for further use. Information will be sent to the dentist and the dentist's privacy policy will apply at that point.

This web site contains links to other sites. We are not responsible for the content and the privacy practices of other web sites and encourages you to examine each site's privacy policies and make your own decisions regarding the reliability and correctness of material and information found.

Security

The Internet is not a secure environment. If you send us any information, including your email address, it is sent at your own risk.

E-mail management - how we use and disclose your information

Email addressees and personal information via the change of address or patient information form are emailed using standard protocols directly to the practices email address. The information is not permanently stored on a database associated with this web hosting company or developer. If you are worried about the sensitivity or security of your information please contact the practice directly by phone or when you next visit the practice. Any information collected by the dentist is viewable and changeable at the dental practice.

We will not use or disclose any personal information for any other purpose without your consent. If we do, it will only be disclosed to someone else as required by law.

Use of cookies

At present this web site does not use any cookies on its site.

A cookie is a small message given to your web browser by a web site server. The browser stores the message, and the message is then sent back to that server each time the browser requests a page from that server. A cookie will not store personal information unless you give this information.

Most Internet browsers are set up to accept cookies. If you do not wish to receive cookies, you may be able to change the settings of your browser to refuse all cookies or to notify you each time a cookie is sent to your computer. This will give you the choice whether to accept a cookie or not.

Please note that some browsers can be configured to allow cookies to be accessed by servers other than the originating server.
